As the Palm Beach Masters Series® readies for its fourth year of competition, the picturesque Deeridge Farms welcomes a slew of new amenities to its 300-acre venue.

In 2019, Palm Beach Masters Series® expands with the only qualifier on U.S. soil for the Longines FEI Jumping Nations Cup™ Final; Deeridge Farms hosts the Longines FEI Jumping Nations Cup™ of the United States on Sunday, Feb. 17, 2019.

The Palm Beach Masters Series® kicked off with the penultimate east coast qualifier for the Longines FEI Jumping World Cup™ Final on Feb. 3; hosted its first ever Longines FEI Jumping Nations Cup™ USA Feb. 13-17; and the third-annual Deeridge Derby, featuring the $50,000 USHJA International Hunter Derby, begins Feb. 27.

The Palm Beach Masters Series® has long established itself as a premier venue and a true destination event in equestrian sport. The tradition continues with the two-story Berkshire Bank VIP Club, featuring an elaborate spread of exquisite culinary creations and libations prepared by Delaware North’s renowned Patina Restaurant Group. The hospitality experience expands with a new tailgating area. The space consists of an outdoor seating area, stocked with ice coolers and a bird’s eye view of the competition. Stake your claim early and spend the day in the shade with a personal table for your party. Adventure also waits at the revamped Just World International Kid’s Zone, where children can, among other activities, climb a rock wall and participate in a horseless horse show.

The food and beverage offerings also reach new heights in 2019 with the Taylor Harris Beach Bar, an open-to-the-public restaurant that will serve casual fare and specialty cocktails throughout the day as well as in the evenings after daily competition concludes.

Of course, the sport will be the focal point, and in the spirit of welcoming fans to experience some of equestrian sports’ most prestigious and historic events, admission and parking is free at the Palm Beach Masters Series in 2019. Additionally, the entire competition operates as a charity, with funds supporting the United States Equestrian Team (USEF) Foundation.

The third annual Deeridge Derby returns to the Palm Beach Masters Series® to put the spotlight on the show hunter—an athlete unique to North America. Historically, the hunter discipline was designed to recognize horses that exhibit the traits desired of a good field hunter. U.S. Equestrian describes an exceptional hunter as having a “calm disposition, good manners, smooth gaits, steady way of going, and pleasant and efficient jumping ability [with] style, presence and superior technique.”

The hunter discipline has evolved greatly—most notably in recent years with the creation of the USHJA International Hunter Derby program, which has brought a new level of excitement—and increased prize money—to the sport. In fact, the focal point of the Deeridge Derby is the $50,000 USHJA International Hunter Derby, won in 2018 by Brad Wolf’s Private Practice and Victoria Colvin, who went on to capture the USHJA International Hunter Derby Championships.

The USHJA International Hunter Derby was created in 2008 to “bring the traditional and art of horsemanship back to the show ring, stronger and better than ever.” Consisting of two rounds—a classic hunter style round and a handy hunter round—the International Derby requires horse and rider combinations to navigate a course of fences that can reach heights of 4'6” and beyond. Raw athleticism is put to the test, as not only must the horses clear the fences, but they must also do it seamlessly and stylishly. At the Deeridge Derby, the two rounds will take place over the course of two days. After the first round of jumping on Saturday, March 2, the top 25 return for the final round on Sunday, March 3.

Two panels of two judges record scores that are averaged and tallied to determine the final placings. Combinations are judged and numerically scored up to 100 on quality, movement, jumping style, manners and way of going, along with pace and brilliance. In addition to these base scores, each judging panel awards one additional point for every higher height option fence jumped (four are offered in each round), and in the handy round, judges give additional scores between zero and 10 to each horse-and-rider combination for handiness of round.

Linda Hough, Susie Schoellkopf, Chance Arakelian and Walter “Timmy” Kees will judge the 2019 Deeridge Derby and have the difficult task of ranking some of the nation’s most talented and accomplished hunters.

Defending Champions Victoria Colvin and Brad Wolf’s Private Practice are back at the Deeridge Derby in 2019 to defend their title. After recording his first USHJA International Hunter Derby win at Deeridge Farms in 2018, the chestnut gelding also went on to be named the 2018 WCHR Hunter of the Year. The remainder of last year’s top three—Red Ryder and Hannah Isop, along with Aeroplane and Amy Momrow—are also back to challenge for the title. They’ll be joined by a strong group of new contenders, ridden by the likes of perennial hunter riders Peter Pletcher, Havens Schatt, Liza Boyd, and more.

Marvel at the elegance and athleticism that will unquestionably be on display at the Deeridge Derby, and scout out whom you think the judges will score highest to claim the 2019 $50,000 USHJA International Hunter Derby title.
In the four years since its inception, the Palm Beach Masters Series® has become synonymous with high performance show jumping as the home of the Longines FEI Jumping World Cup™ Wellington.

In 2019, the Series adds its first five-star to its lineup, hosting the Longines FEI Jumping Nations Cup™ of the United States, the only qualifier in the country for the prestigious Longines FEI Jumping Nations Cup™ Final. Eight nations will be represented, as the world’s best riders will congregate at the Jacobs family’s beloved Deeridge Farms.

Lou Jacobs, who founded the Series alongside siblings Charlie Jacobs and Katie Jacobs Robinson, grew up at Deeridge. His parents, Jerry and Peggy Jacobs, bought their first Florida properties in 1979. Now, he and his family—with four generations of Jacobses involved in the industry—are determined to give back to the sport and the city that have given them so much. This year, they made the Palm Beach Masters Series® a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization.

“It all stems from my father’s love of horses that goes back to his childhood,” Lou said. “My dad purchased this property and built the barn first. This was really sort of a center point for our family life, and we’ve spent a lot of great years down here showing and competing together.”

All proceeds from the 2019 Palm Beach Masters Series® will go to the United States Equestrian Team Foundation, which supports the United States’ high performance equestrian athletes with training, coaching, travel and educational needs.

“So many of the great horse shows in this country are not-for-profit 501c(3) organizations, whether it’s the Hampton Classic Horse Show, Lake Placid Horse Shows, Devon Horse Show, National Horse Show, or Washington International Horse Show,” Lou said. “We thought, ‘What better partner for our non-profit than the United States Equestrian Team Foundation?’”

As a boutique event, Palm Beach Masters offers a unique experience for its competitors, from Deeridge’s picturesque 300-acres to its one-of-a-kind VIP experience, horse-friendly facility, and intimacy. Ultimately, the Jacobs family wants the venue to feel like home to high performance show jumpers.

“Really, our ultimate goal in the future is that this would be the home for the U.S. Equestrian Team,” Lou explained. “The great milestone this year is being awarded the Nations Cup, because we want the USEF and the athletes to view this as their home grounds.”

As the Series continues to grow, changes may seem constant, but the core heart of the Series remains the same: It’s all about family and sport.

It is the exhibitor’s responsibility to enroll their horse in a timely manner in order to be eligible to participate.

B. A score will be announced after each round.
C. If the Incentive is run concurrently with another class, judges will compare incentive horses against the other incentive horses, not against the green hunter entries.
D. If the number of entries warrant splitting the class, it is recommended to split it by fence height first rather than California split.
E. The class will be judged by a minimum of one Registered (Large R) USEF Hunter Licensed judge at Premier and National rated competitions and competitions that have been approved for a Special Competition status, and a minimum of one Registered (Large R) or Recorded (Small R) USEF Hunter Licensed judge at Regional I and Regional II rated competitions.

All four Green Hunter fence heights may not be combined under any circumstance.
D. The one round USHJA Green Hunter Incentive class may be held concurrently with a class of an existing Green Hunter 3’0”, 3’3”, section or as a standalone class.
1. If the Stake is held as a standalone class, no other class may be held concurrently with the Stake.
2. If the class is held concurrently with a class of an existing Green Hunter section, the rider must enter the USHJA Green Hunter Incentive Stake class separately from the Green Hunter corresponding height section in order to be eligible for the additional prize money.

All four Green Hunter fence heights may not be combined under any circumstance.

Tie Breaking Procedures
A. Neither judging panel may award the same base score to any two competitors in any one round unless a competitor's score is below the cut-off score. B. All ties for overall first place in the class will compete in a jump-off round. See “E” for calculating the Overall Score.

B. No panel may award the same base score to any two competitors in any one round.

C. The first round shall be judged on performance, hunter pace, jumping style, quality and substance, and movement. After the judges base score is given, one point will be added for each high option fence jumped. The Option Bonus Score of one additional point must be awarded even if there is a refusal, rail down, loss of points for jumping style at that higher height option fence, providing that the horse-and-rider combination does jump the higher height option fence. (Maximum of four points.)

D. The second round shall be judged on performance, hunter pace, jumping style, quality and substance, movement, handiness and brilliance of pace. Handiness is defined as ground saving movement without adversely affecting performance or style. Brilliance of pace is defined as a faster pace than ordinary, without sacrificing performance or style. Handiness is taken into account in the judges’ base score. After the judges’ base score is given, one point will be added for each high option fence jumped. The Option Bonus Score of one additional point must be awarded even if there is a refusal, rail down, loss of points for jumping style at that higher height option fence, providing that the horse-and-rider combination does jump the higher height option fence. (Maximum of four points.)

E. Overall Score - The final score from each round will be either averaged or added as specified in the prize list to obtain the overall total for each horse.

Tie Breaking Procedures

A. No panel may award the same base score to any two competitors in any one round unless a competitor’s score is below the cut-off score.

B. Any ties in all rounds will be broken by the base score (before adding height bonus points) of that round.

C. Unless the prize list states that more than 12 entries are to return for the second round, only the top 12 horses from the first round, after all ties are broken, are eligible to return for the second round.

D. All ties for overall first place in the class will compete in a jump-off round. In the case of unsafe conditions preventing a jump-off from being held, the tie will be broken using the second round base score (before adding height bonus points).

E. Ties for other than first place in the overall standings will be broken using the second round base score (before adding height bonus points).

However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the instructions for Part I, later. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see How to get a TIN, later.

Note: If the account is in more than one name, see the instructions for line 1. Also see What Name and Number To Give the Requester for guidelines on whose number to enter.

Part II  Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me); and
2. I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. See the instructions for Part II, later.
